

Long Live New York

We can save thousands of lives
by donating an important part of New York.
Ourselves.

November is National Donor Sabbath month, shining a spotlight on the life-saving power of organ donation. At this moment, 10,000 people in New York are waiting for transplants. And, many will die waiting. By registering to be an organ donor, just one person can impact countless lives. Join us this month as we learn, reach out within our community, and change lives together.
